STRATA CEILING TRIMS

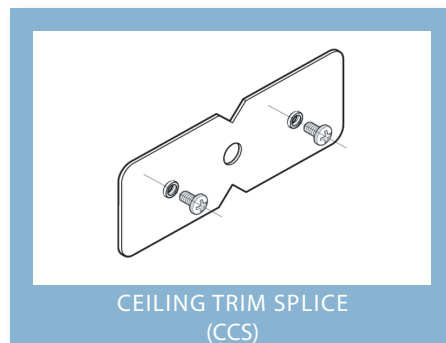

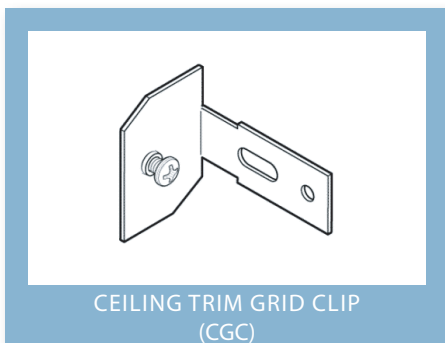

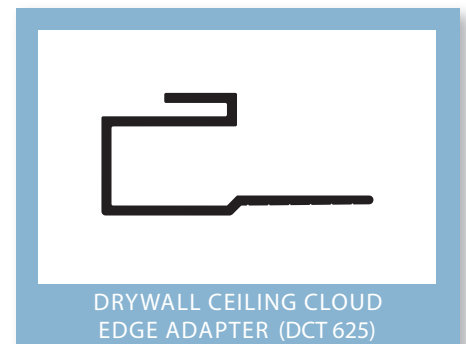

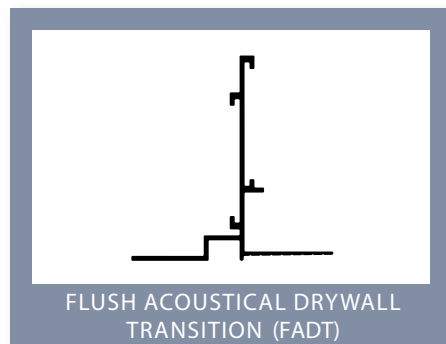

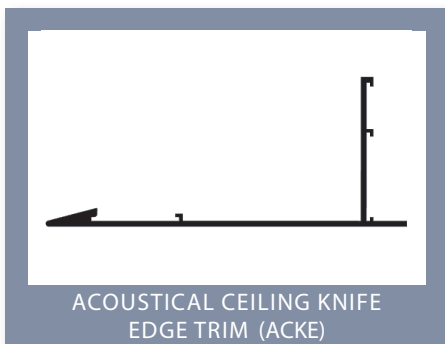

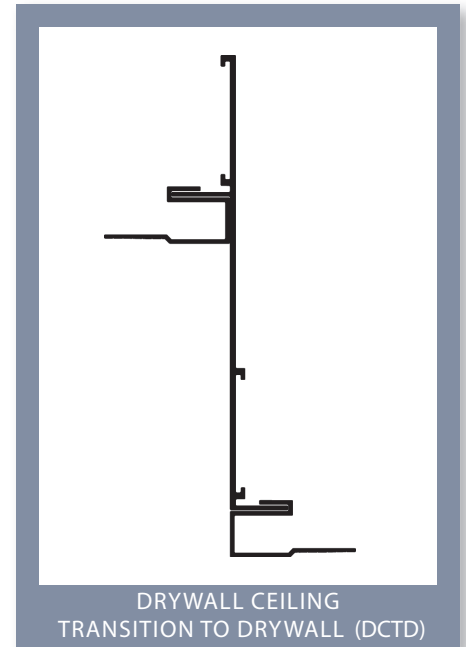

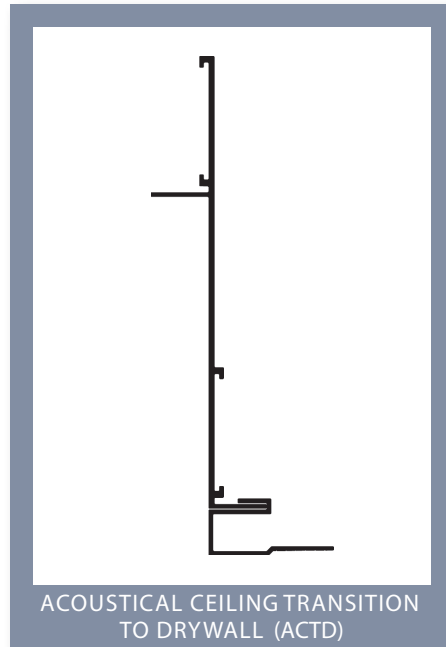

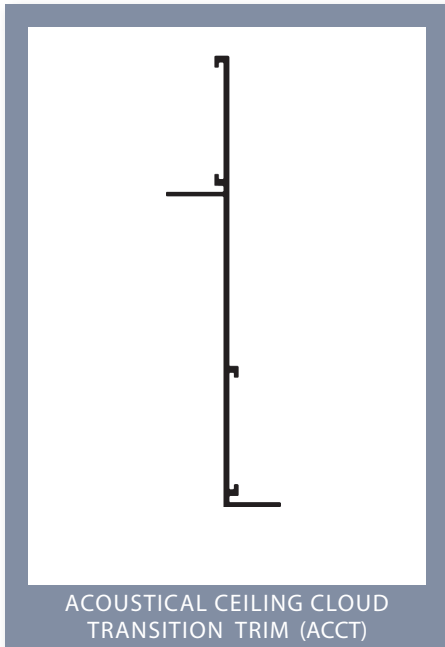

If you need to take your suspended ceiling to new heights, we present you Flannery's STRATA Ceiling Cloud Trims. The first trim that Flannery brought to market in 1975 was an interior trim designed to finish the edge of a vertical wall against a suspended ceiling. Back then there were very few ceilings that were not run from wall to wall, so there were few unique ceiling design options to the architect.

The last several years have brought Flannery full circle as we continue to innovate and invest in just the right trim to finish not just the edge of a vertical wall, but the ceiling itself. Suspended ceilings have undergone a renaissance of design innovation and installation techniques that have broadened the imagination of those who create shared spaces in commercial construction.

Flannery's STRATA Ceiling Cloud Trims complement suspended ceiling design elements by providing them a clean and rich termination edge. In this brochure, we present our current offering of ceiling art and outline the many options of our cloud and perimeter trim line. In addition to the products in this brochure, be sure to visit flannerytrim.com to view our various aluminum trims for Drywall, Plaster/Stucco, Fiber Cement, Millwork Panels and LED Systems.
